— AHOY THERE — EXPLORERS

My whole life, the sea has been my home away from home. I have never imagined a holiday without thinking of the blue waters of the Mediterranean or turquoise colours of the Seychelles.

Peregrine Adventure Cruising is a premium travel experience for open-minded, curious explorers seeking adventure at sea. This isn't your typical cruise. We travel with under 50 passengers, not 5000. There are no onboard casinos or pools; we prefer to spend our time exploring port towns and swimming off the side of the ship.

While we visit some well-known landmarks, we also veer off the beaten waves to secluded ports, islands and beaches.

Adventure doesn't have to mean discomfort. Aboard our wide selection of sea-going vessels, passengers are treated to excellent service from an attentive crew, and fresh, locally inspired food and wine. We want you to experience a destination through your eyes, ears and tastebuds. It's Adventure Cruising at its finest!

Last – but certainly not least – we remain faithful to our promise of sustainability by carbon offsetting our trips through renewable energy projects.

This is your porthole to the world.
Imagine the possibilities.

— THE SMALL-SHIP — EXPERIENCE

The most memorable travel experiences often occur in the smaller places, the hidden spots and local haunts. With Adventure Cruising, it's possible to combine these intimate moments with the freedom of ocean travel and the comfort of returning to a well-appointed room each night. Our staff treat you as an individual, not just another sunburnt tourist, and will help you explore everywhere from historic ports, secluded swimming spots and tiny eateries that lie beyond the reach of mega cruisers.

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE DESTINATION

With Adventure Cruising, destination is king. Unlike conventional big ship cruising, which is concerned with life on the boat, Adventure Cruising is all about access: stopping at tiny islands the behemoth cruisers can't reach, exploring markets and tasting fresh fish, and wandering historic places with a knowledgeable local guide.

SAIL UNCHARTED WATERS

Step off the boat and into the centre of town. And if some idyllic, sun-soaked cove appears off the starboard bow, we can spontaneously stop for a swim.

A GREENER WAY TO CRUISE

Small ships generate far less waste than a traditional cruise: they're gentle on local communities and much better for the environment.

ACTIVITIES ON BOARD

Forget casinos, bowling alleys or nightclubs; we have direct access to the sea, sun decks, cocktails and fishing equipment.

LOCAL FLAVOURS

We believe in travelling on our stomachs, and each onboard menu is tailored to reflect your destination. Onshore, our staff know the best spots for a local meal.

A PERSONAL TOUCH

Travel with just 30-50 passengers, not 3000, and get a more personal level of service. You're known by name, not just by cabin number.

HOME SWEET HOME

With air conditioning if you need to cool down, turndown twice a day and a fully equipped laundry service, you're essentially staying in a 4-star hotel.

THE PERFECT HOLIDAY

— BY LAND AND SEA —

Can't decide whether you'd rather the spontaneity and freedom of our cruises, or the feature stays and immersion that are the hallmark of our original small group tours? Combining a Peregrine Adventure Cruise with a traditional small group tour can create a custom and once-in-a-lifetime adventure. You deserve it all – from the deluxe, furnished tents that rest on stilts in Khao Sok National Park to a barbecue while floating on the shore of Zadar in Croatia.

WELCOME TO PEREGRINE ADVENTURE CRUISING

Cruise the glittering waters of Croatia, spot crocodiles along the banks of The Gambia and glide between ancient mountains in the Westfjords with Peregrine's premium Adventure Cruising. Along with a small group of travellers, join your Peregrine local leader, captain and experienced crew. While you'll enjoy the same level of inclusions as a regular Peregrine tour – like winery tours and guided walks – you'll also have time to relax and do things at your own pace. Think of it as a classic Peregrine journey – but at sea!

LOCAL-LED ONSHORE EXCURSIONS

On Peregrine's charter cruises, we often dock overnight so you can enjoy the nightlife and flavour of each port, with the freedom to return to the boat at your leisure. Or we may sail overnight so you can spend more time exploring our next port of call. It's all about making the most of your journey.

Included in the trip price are land excursions with our expert local leaders. These allow you to gain a deeper insight into the places we visit. They'll take you to the big sites, like the ruins at Delos or Plitvice Lakes National Park, but also to meet local artisans and to secret spots that are rich in history. Local knowledge is a blessing when it comes to things like food. Not only might you enjoy a beach barbecue, picnic, onboard feast or cooking demonstration, you'll also get advice on where to find the best local cuisine at each stop.

Travelling in small groups means you'll get more attentive service and insider tips from your leader. With Peregrine Adventure Cruising you're an individual, not just a cabin number.

“ One of the reasons I chose this particular cruise was the daily excursions. I particularly loved the smaller towns Stari Grad and Opuzen – fabulous ‘local’ experiences. ”

Discover the natural delights of West Africa on this cruise through Banjul and along the Gambia River, where both the water and trees along the bank are teeming with wildlife. Look for hippopotamuses and crocodiles in biodiverse Bao Bolong Wetland Reserve and sail to an island chimpanzee colony.

Day 1 Dakar

If you arrive with time to spare there is much to see in Senegal's capital. You can drop your luggage off at port and walk the streets, where gleaming SUVs and rusted motorbikes share the road. Board the Harmony G in the late afternoon, enjoy a welcome dinner and sail to Djiffere overnight.

Day 2 Djiffere

Awaken at a village port and travel to Fadiouth Island, where everything, from the ground itself to the cemetery, is made from millions of accumulated clam shells. The crunching underfoot makes a nice change of pace from the car horns of Dakar. Later, glide down the Saloum Delta wetlands in a small local boat and let the squawks guide you to the mangrove thick 'bird island'. Take a dip, then spend the night anchored in Djiffere.

Day 3 Banjul

Set sail for Banjul and cross into The Gambia, where the first stop is Kunteh Kinteh, a place with indelible links to the early days of the American slave trade. Tour the ruins and ponder this significant and painful part of history. Dock overnight in Tendaba.

Day 4 Tendaba

Take a motorised pirogue (small wooden boat) from the ship to Tendaba, then walk on to the bird watchers' paradise of Kiang West National Park. After lunch, visit the Bao Bolong Wetland Reserve, home to hippopotamuses, clawless otters, crocodiles and more. Dock overnight in Tendaba.

Day 5 Kuntaur

Sail to relaxed Kuntaur, where a local boat awaits to ferry you past a chimpanzee colony on a nearby island. More than 100 of the creatures reside here as part of the Chimp Rehabilitation Project, and if you're lucky you'll spy a few from the boat. Next, see the Wassu Stone Circles, which were likely erected around AD1305. Their purpose remains unknown, so feel free to speculate and discuss the possibilities with your guide. Spend the evening beneath the stars on the bank of the river, watching a film with the locals and then staying at port.

Gambia River, The Gambia

Sail-in cinema in Kuntaur

Watch a film beneath the stars on the bank of the Gambia River in Kuntaur. You'll join the locals to watch this projected film – a popular local pastime and a truly unique experience. It's open-air cinema with a difference.

An island of shells

Feel a crunch underfoot on Djiffere's Fadiouth Island, where everything – from the land itself to the local church – is constructed from millions of shells.

Fadiouth Island, Senegal

Day 6 Kuntaur

Begin your return to Banjul, with a stop along the way at a Gambian family compound. Chat with locals who have a communal way of life that is likely greatly different from your own. Later, return to the boat and sail overnight to Banjul.

Day 7 Banjul

Arrive early in Banjul and travel by 4WD to a nearby village, where you will watch the locals make cloudy white Sengga (palm tree wine). This sweet and yeasty brew is the perfect accompaniment to the barbecue you'll enjoy on the beach. Return to Banjul and set sail on an overnight journey.

Day 8 Dakar

Wake in Dakar and bid farewell to the crew and staff over breakfast. Disembark for the chaos of Dakar, where you can choose to stay on or continue your journey elsewhere.

Day 3 Nha Trang

Today a road trip leads to glamorous Nha Trang. Pay a visit to Po Klong Garai Cham Towers, an elaborate work of architecture dating back to around 1400 and the rule of King Jaya Simharvarman III. See traditional pottery methods at work in Bau Truc, the oldest pottery village in South East Asia.

North Vietnam Coastal Cruising

DANANG TO HANOI

8 days

A secret drawcard of the north is Phong Nha-Ke Bang National Park, an unspoiled haven of karst and cliffs, rivers and mountains, and caves that stretch for miles. Contrast these natural splendours with cultural and historical discovery in Hue, Hanoi and at the war sites of Vinh Moc and Khe Sanh.

Day 1 Danang

Welcome to Vietnam. Climb aboard the Panorama II and enjoy a welcome dinner with your fellow travellers.

Day 2 Hue

After a short sail to Chan May, drive to Hue, the former imperial capital that's rich in history. Enjoy a Buddhist-style vegetarian lunch at one of Hue's pagodas, and visit the elaborate royal tomb of Emperor Tu Duc. Sail overnight to Vinh Moc.

Day 3 Vinh Moc

The Vinh Moc Tunnels, built to shelter local communities in the Demilitarised Zone that separated north from south during the war, are a fascinating thing to behold. Head also to the Khe Sanh Combat Base, the site of the war's most intense battle. Afterwards, sail overnight toward Hon La.

Day 4 Hon La

Make tracks for the incredible Phong Nha-Ke Bang National Park. This sprawl of jungle, rivers and limestone karst landscapes is sure to rate among Vietnam's most underrated natural wonders. Its 31-kilometre-long Thien Duong Cave (Paradise Cave) was discovered only this century.

Day 5 Halong Bay

A full day's sailing takes you north towards Halong, located to the east of Hanoi. Relax with a drink, play some board games, chat with shipmates, curl up on a comfortable chair with a good book, or soak up some sunrays out on deck.

Day 6 Halong Bay

Transfer to a smaller boat to get the most out of Halong Bay's gorgeous, odd-shaped limestone islands that jut out of the emerald water. While it's enough to float along and enjoy it all from the boat, some kayaking along the bay may also be possible.

Day 7 Hanoi

Cruising in the Thai Islands

PHUKET TO PHUKET

8 days

The Similan Islands, Ko Surin Tai and Khao Lak offer all the hallmarks of Thailand's idyllic south – the aquamarine Andaman Sea, white sands, limestone oddities and smiling locals – without the glitz and bustle of mainland Phuket. Dine and share stories with locals in small villages, explore jungle- and boulder-studded shorelines, and swim and snorkel the afternoons away.

Day 1 Phuket

Arrive in Phuket, meet your shipmates and board the Panorama II in the late afternoon. After your welcome dinner, set sail overnight for Ko Miang, one of the Similan Islands.

Day 2 Ko Miang

Arrive early in Ko Miang. Renowned among divers for good reason, these isles combine rainforest, white sands and blue waters to dazzling effect. After a morning of swimming, snorkelling, kayaking or paddleboarding, depart mid-afternoon for the short sail to the main group of the Similan Islands. The boat remains at anchor here overnight.

Day 3 Similan Islands

Enjoy a full day of exploring the World Heritage-listed Similan Islands. Hike the rainforest interior, scramble over huge boulders on pristine beaches, or go snorkelling in search of tropical fish and coral. Later, it's off for an overnight sail to Ko Surin Tai, departing late at night.

Day 4 Ko Surin Tai

Moken Village makes for a fascinating tour today. This is the home of the Moken people, a seafaring ethnic group of Austronesian origin who still mostly live a semi-nomadic hunter-gatherer life, despite Thai and Burmese attempts to assimilate them into wider culture. Notice their colourful poles, known as labong, which represent their ancestors. In the afternoon, enjoy some snorkelling and relaxing on the beach.

Day 5 Ko Surin Tai

Enjoy another day basking in the beauty of Surin Tai. Explore its incredible ecosystem, perhaps watching for a nesting turtle if it's the season. Otherwise, enjoy the sun and sand of this beautifully off-track location while you can. In the evening, settle into a leisurely barbecue on deck with your fellow travellers. The night is spent at anchor here.

Day 6 Khao Lak

Make the journey to Khao Lak, a laidback beachside haven that's a nice escape from the glitzier side of Phuket. En route, if the

Indonesian Island Cruise

BALI TO BALI

8 days

Just beyond the 'Island of the Gods' lies a vast new world to explore. Embark on a cruise to some of the most enchanting isles of the Indonesian archipelago: the twin paradises of Saringgi and Karamat, the dormant volcano and crater lake of Satonda, unspoiled Banta, the Komodo dragon-filled Rinca, hard-to-access Moyo, and Lombok, the sleepy giant just east of Bali.

Day 1 Bali

Om Swastiastu! Welcome to Bali. The journey begins in Port Benoa, near Kuta. Set sail for Saringgi and, after a welcome dinner with fellow travellers, spend the night at sea.

Day 2 Saringgi & Keramat Islands

Begin the journey with a visit to two small, quiet islands lying adjacent to each other, Saringgi and Keramat. Travelling by tender, take a transfer there for a day of beach activities – swimming, snorkelling, kayaking or perhaps some stand-up paddleboarding.

Day 3 Satonda Island

Departing Keramat at around 7 am, sail for Satonda island. The dormant volcano from which the island takes its name has an impressive crater lake in its centre. Take a short walk to the lake and enjoy a refreshing dip there. An optional walk to a high lookout yields fine photographic opportunities. As the day draws to a close, catch the sunset, then settle in for the overnight sail to Banta Island.

Day 4 Banta Island & Rinca Island

Banta Island is largely uninhabited and seldom visited, so it will likely be deserted today. There's an optional hike on offer for those feeling active, and lunch is a barbecue right on the beach. In the late evening, set sail to Rinca Island, one of the larger islands of Komodo National Park.

Day 5 Rinca Island

Led by local rangers, set out on foot in search of the famous Komodo dragons in their natural habitat. Rinca is far less touristy than Komodo Island, so dragon-spotting here is less staged and more natural. Sail overnight from Rinca to Moyo Island, stopping for an afternoon swim en route.

Day 6 Moyo Island

Arrive in Moyo Island in the late morning. This hard-to-access spot is another fine example of Indonesia's smaller, forest-clad isles. It's

Sleepy Satonda

GALAPAGOS

ISLANDS

Up in the highlands of Santa Cruz you'll find Galapagos tortoises milling around (if something so big and slow could be said to 'mill'), shuffling along in search of their next meal. The picture is so perfect, the tortoises so impeccably framed by lush greenery, it's as if someone has deliberately placed them there. It's a feeling that you'll often get travelling in the Galapagos, almost a thousand kilometres from the South American mainland. It seems every new beach, lagoon, hillside and outcrop you visit is home to an abundance of amazing creatures unperturbed by your presence.

What to know

OUR NEW BOUTIQUE YACHT

The itineraries featured in this brochure feature our new custom-built yacht, the Grand Queen Beatriz. With a stylish modern design, ensuite bathrooms, outward-facing windows in all cabins (and private balconies in some), and a jacuzzi on the sundeck, the 'Queen Bea' will be one of the newest boats operating in the Galapagos. For more information visit peregrineadventures.com/grand-queen-beatriz

MEALS

Healthy and generous meals are prepared three times a day by the onboard chef. Tea, coffee and purified water are always complimentary, and soft drinks and alcoholic beverages can be purchased at the bar (simply pay your tab at the end). Dietary requirements should be mentioned when booking.

PERMITS

In order to best preserve this important and fragile natural ecosystem, the Galapagos National Park authorities restrict the number of visitors to each site by issuing permits to every visiting vessel that determine which sites can be visited each day, and when. Far from restricting the experience, this system actually enhances it as itineraries are designed to eliminate the amount of vessel crossover. This results in witnessing more of the wildlife you've come to see without vying with boatloads of other tourists.

LUGGAGE

There are luggage limits that apply to the flight to and from the Galapagos. As your trip starts and finishes at the same hotel in Quito, we suggest only bringing essential items and leaving your other luggage in the secure hotel storage.

TIPPING

If you have enjoyed the services of your guide and crew, a tip is always much appreciated by them. We recommend each passenger consider a daily tip of USD 15 for the crew and USD 10 for your guide.

SNORKELLING GEAR

Snorkelling equipment (mask, snorkel and flippers) and wetsuits are provided at no extra charge. A range of sizes and wetsuit lengths are available.

NATIONAL PARK AND PORT FEES

A transit card fee of USD 20 is to be paid prior to departure from Quito Airport and a national park fee of USD 100 is to be paid on arrival on the Galapagos Islands. These fees are to be paid locally in cash and are not included in the trip price. Trips visiting Isabela Island incur a USD 5 port fee payable on arrival.

Grand Galapagos

QUITO TO QUITO

17 days

Day 1 Quito Arrive in Quito, a charming and historic city in the Andean foothills.

Day 2 Baltra Rise early for your flight to the Galapagos Islands. Board the Grand Queen Beatriz and set sail for Punta Carrion. Get your first taste of island life with a swim in this protected cove. Later, relax with a cocktail on deck and sail for Isla Isabela overnight.

Day 3 Isla Isabela Wake on the coast of this stunning volcanic island and travel to islet of Las Tintoreras, where white-tipped reef sharks glide through clear waters. Later, visit the Giant Tortoise Breeding Center and spend some time with gentle giants. Set sail for Isla Floreana in the evening after a free afternoon.

Day 4 Isla Floreana See the rich natural wonders of Isla Floreana in a Zodiac tour then take a leisurely stroll to historic Post Office Bay. Today is one of the best chances to see pink flamingos and sea lions.

Day 5 Isla Santa Cruz Visit the Charles Darwin Research Station and learn about vital conservation efforts on the Galapagos Islands. Then, venture into the misty forests of the Santa Cruz highlands, hopefully encountering giant tortoises in the wild.

Day 6 Isla Santa Fe Swim or snorkel in the aquamarine waters of Santa Fe, where the local sea lion population are very eager to play. Drop in to tiny Isla Plaza Sur where iguanas scurry around cactus and bright red and green sesuvium.

Day 7 Isla Espanola The southernmost island in the Galapagos, Isla Espanola is a bird watchers haven and home to waved albatross, boobies, doves and mockingbirds. Walk to the top of a cliff in Punta Suarez and hopefully see albatross launch themselves this lofty perch. Sail to Bahia Gardner for another spot of snorkelling.

Day 8 Isla San Cristobal Say good morning on Isla San Cristobal and visit impressive Leon Dormido (Kicker Rock). More sea lions await at Isla Lobos. Perhaps relax on deck in the evening, enjoying the salt air during an evening at port.
